CALLING ALL ADVENTUROUS TEENAGERS

RTÉ is looking for adventurous Transition Students to take part in a show that just may change their lives forever.

RTÉ Young Peoples Programmes, along with Yellow Asylum Films, are looking for people to participate in a forthcoming television series which will follow eight Transition Year students – four able-bodied and four with disabilities – on a life-changing and fun journey to an exotic mystery location.

Throughout, they will undertake a number of exciting challenges. They will be trained and fully supervised by a team of experts but they will still need a strong sense of adventure and commitment.

The only qualifications are that you must have an open mind and a desire to test your limits. You'll also have to be in Transition Year in your school, sixteen years of age or older on January 1st, 2013, have a valid passport and be free, ready and willing to travel at some stage during the Spring of 2013 to a place most people have never even thought of visiting.

Those interested just simply send an email to the Production Coordinator, Moira Lawson – moilawson04@yahoo.co.uk or call her on 086 086 1867. You will then be sent an application form which must be signed by your parents with a brief description of yourself and making the case for why you should be chosen as one of the lucky eight.

The deadline for all applications has been extended till the 8th February 2013.
